San Francisco Mompreneurs Team Up to Celebrate Mommyhood and Creativity

Baby Apparel Manufacturer LibraKnits and author Diana Orgain Announce Free Baby Hat Contest to Celebrate the Release of “Bundle of Trouble: A Maternal Instincts Mystery”

July 17, 2009, San Francisco - In the fall of 2006, Amanda Sawyer heard the words that no woman wants to hear. She was told that she could never have children. During the many doctor visits that followed her diagnosis, she needed something to help pass the time. So she picked up her knitting needles, and starting making luxurious handmade baby hats. And baby hat manufacturer LibraKnits was born. "LibraKnits has allowed me the opportunity to turn one of the most difficult times in my life into one of the most rewarding and wonderful things I've ever done," states Sawyer. All that positive energy seems to have paid off. In October 2008, Sawyer finally gave birth to a healthy baby girl after a fertility treatment.

While Sawyer was working hard to start her family and her business, San Francisco mommy and author Diana Orgain was also giving birth – to a wonderful new character! First-time mom Kate Connolly may have found the perfect work-from-home Mommy job: Private Investigator. After all, the hours are flexible, she can bring the baby along on stake-outs, and if you're going to be up all night anyway, you might as well solve some crimes. Now, in addition to trying to solve the mystery of how one six-pound baby can generate ten times her weight in laundry, Kate finds herself in the middle of a murder investigation with multiplying victims. And when her husband is detained in connection with the crimes, Kate must crack the case faster than you can say “diaper rash” to keep her little family together!

To celebrate the launch of Bundle of Trouble: A Maternal Instincts Mystery, San Francisco mompreneurs Diana Orgain and Amanda Sawyer have teamed up. They've created a contest where Bundle of Trouble readers can enter to win a free LibraKnits hat of their choice! Go to www.dianaorgain.com for contest details. You can also join them for the book launch party at Sprout San Francisco, 1828 Union Street, on Wednesday, August 5th from 6-8 pm. “I'm very excited to celebrate the launch with another San Francisco mom,” says Orgain. “We're both doing exciting, creative things while also staying at home with our children. We're very lucky.”
